If the above list doesn’t include what you want, just call. A big benefit of working with Commander is our staff will do all the research for you. You provide us with your promotional objective, budget, and timetable, and we will do the rest. We have online search capabilities for over 750,000 products so we can find just the item you’re looking for.

Not sure what you want and need ideas or inspiration? Choosing the right product for your promotion is a big task. That’s why our clients rely on our over forty-four years of experience to help them find the appropriate promotional items, professionally imprint those items, then deliver them on time to a specific meeting site, office, or convention location. You can also visit our promotional showroom, one of the largest in Ventura and Santa Barbara counties. Come in and see product samples used successfully by other companies to achieve a wide range of promotional and motivational objectives.

What is the easiest way to increase the perceived value of a promo gift? Packaging!

Packaging can be just as impressive as what’s inside and will make your customers feel they are opening a thoughtful gift. We have custom wood, tin, cardboard or plastic boxes for gifts and special promotions as well as custom tissue paper and satin gift ribbon that can be branded with your logo.
